3 Reasons LLCA is Right for You (and 3 Reasons it's Not)

67 FINAL - 3 Reasons LLCA is Right for You (and 3 Reasons It's Not)

Nancy: Hi, I'm Nancy Levin. Welcome to Your Permission Prescription, the podcast that shows you how to confidently say yes to you and consciously create the life you desire. I wanna make sure you know about something very exciting before we get into today's episode. Something I only do once a year. On Tuesday, September 20th, I'll be holding a free workshop called Your Reinvention Prescription.

This workshop is by far the most popular workshop I hold all year and I'm especially enthusiastic about it right now because after what's transpired over the past couple of years, I know so many of us have a deep craving for reinvention. Most people desire, freedom, flexibility, a lucrative career they love, and a community of people supporting them in their goals.

However, not everyone has the roadmap for achieving this lifestyle, especially in these uncertain times. If this resonates, this workshop is for you. In this live interactive workshop, we'll go deep into the Reinvention process. Plus, you'll have a comprehensive workbook, and you'll get the workshop replay.

The tools you'll receive will set a solid foundation for your success. This workshop will help you show up as a better coach and leader in your career, a more engaged partner or parent, as well as mentor and role model in everything you do, because reinvention is at the core of a powerful process that propels you toward the success you desire and deserve. No matter the circumstances.

I teach this workshop each year before I open enrollment for my comprehensive life coach training and certification program, Levin Life Coach Academy, whether or not you can see yourself as a coach, the principles you'll learn in this training will give you the skills to elevate every area of your life, mentally, emotionally, spiritually, and yes, financially, too.

This workshop is for you if you're interested in becoming a life coach, or if you're a life coach already and would like to achieve a higher level of success, or if you're a professional, such as a CEO, HR specialist, a manager or business owner, entrepreneur, and it's also for you, if you'd like support in experiencing a life reinvention.

Welcome back to another episode of Your Permission Prescription. Today, I thought I'd share a bit about Levin Life Coach Academy with you since the doors are opening soon for enrollment. So, I wanna share what LLCA is and why I created it as well as who LLCA is for and who it's not for. And I'll begin first by simply saying that Levin Life Coach Academy is the premier training and certification program for aspiring and existing coaches.

So if you are already a certified coach, if you are an aspiring coach, if you are someone who is looking to bring coaching skills into your current profession to enhance it, or if you're looking to elevate your life and your business overall, LLCA has what you need. I created LLCA because I began becoming the coach to the coaches.

Coaches would come to me for coaching because they lacked the confidence, the courage, the skill, the preparation to get clients. And they also didn't know what to do with a client once they got one. So coaches would come to me ultimately saying something like, I wanna be a coach like you. And I want to know how to get clients and what to actually do with them.

So I started to realize that there was a real gap in coach trainings that while they might be quote unquote training coaches to coach, they weren't giving them the platform that they needed in order to actually put themselves out there, to own business owner, to recognize that a big part of coaching is also becoming visible and marketing and promotion.

So, I realized that if I was going to create a training, I wanted to be sure it was comprehensive that it would provide the exact tools, scripts, and proven processes that you need in order to build a coaching practice that changes lives, your own and others. And in order to do that, I knew I wanted to build in a component all about starting your own business from scratch, how to get your first client and what exactly to do with your clients when you got them.

So, you know, as I said, I identified this major gap in the world of life coach training and certification. I knew that I wanted to fill it with my own method for achieving success. So that was really the beginning, the origin point of creating LLCA. I also knew that when I created it, I wanted it to be hands on, high touch, and happening in real.

I want to be a part of what's happening as my students are being coached and trained, I didn't wanna be removed. So it's really important to me. And it's one of my most gratifying and fulfilling and satisfying things that I do, coaching and supporting everyone in my training. So. That's a little bit of why I created LLCA, I wanna share who it's for and who it's not for.

So Levin Life Coach Academy is right for you. If you are willing to do your own inner exploration and self-discovery work before guiding others to theirs. This is really a key point in the first module of LLCA. I coach you through Reinvention Coaching, which is the first of my coaching models that you have the opportunity to be certified in.

But before you step into the role of the coach, you are in the seat of the client being coached by me through the very coaching model you will then be coaching others. So it's really essential that you're willing to do your own inner work, first. LLCA is right for you if you want to learn in real time with coaching and direct support from me, plus practicing what you're learning in small groups with your peer and a mentor.

So, as I was saying before, this is happening in real time, live video sessions with replays and I am with you every single week of the program live in real time, you also are put into a small group with a mentor. And you will have the opportunity to practice coaching skills, coaching sessions in your small group as well.

And the third reason LLCA is right for you is if you're a life coach or an aspiring life coach, and you want to enhance your current career with coaching skills, or you want to learn more about yourself. LLCA will elevate your life and your business. So, as I was sharing a bit before in the program, we give you everything you need to build your business from scratch.

And this is something that is missing in other coaching programs. So, post certification, you are automatically enrolled in our Alumni Springboard and it is included in your tuition. It is 10 weeks completely dedicated and devoted to getting your first paying client. Creating a simple web presence, how to really leverage the discovery session that you'll offer prospective clients.

We also give you presentations and book study guidelines. We give you templates for social media. We give you. Everything you need, including legal sources to set your business up right from the get-go. So those are just three reasons LLCA is right for you. You're willing to do your own inner work. You wanna learn in real time from me, your mentors and your peers, and you are wanting to become a coach. You already are a coach. You wanna enhance your current career in life with coaching skills.

Hi there. Before we continue with today's episode, I'd like to share a little more information about my upcoming free workshop called Your Reinvention Prescription, taking place on Tuesday, September 20th. As I mentioned earlier in the show, this workshop is for aspiring life coaches, existing life coaches who want to elevate their practice for greater success, as well as professionals.

Who'd like to show up as better stronger leaders, but it doesn't stop there. If you are someone who's interested in the tools and practices required to reinvent yourself or some element of your life, then this workshop is for you. I will lead you through exercises on reinventing with intent, owning and achieving your worth, and how to make your vision a reality.

Be sure to visit Nancylevin.com/workshop to learn more and register. I hope to see you there.

Let's pop into three reasons why LLCA might not be the choice for you. If you want to give advice and tell people what to do, LLCA is not for you. Coaching is not about giving advice. Coaching is about remaining agenda free, staying in the deep listening, supporting your clients and guiding them to their own inner wisdom, helping them get from where they are right now to where they wanna be, not where you want them to be or think they should be.

The second reason why LLCA might not be right for you is if you simply wanna collect prerecorded videos. Without being part of an evolving and connected community. So as I said earlier, LLCA is delivered to you in real time by me. And these are not prerecorded videos that are gonna collect dust on your computer.

The, this is not last year's information. This is not anything that has been prepackaged. Everything we do together is happening live and in real time, and the bonds that are formed in our community are unlike anything I've ever seen before. Lifelong friendships have been formed inside of our community.

And so, if that's not something you. LLCA ain't for you. the other reason LLCA might not be right for you is if you're looking for an overnight coach certification. Listen, I know what's out there. I know that you can sign up and in a weekend, get a certification without any real grounded training without any sort of assessment.

For certification and that's not LLCA. LLCA is a seven month deep dive into what it is to be a coach. Module 1, you are coached by me through Reinvention Coaching. Module 2 is devoted to life coaching skills. Module 3 is devoted to practicing sessions inside of your small group with your mentor and receiving feedback.

Module 4 is a live coaching practicum, where you are coaching and being coached with a peer inside the program, as well as coaching external practice clients. Module 5 is certification. And as part of the certification, we make sure that you have taken at least one outside practice client through the full coaching model, you have at this point already submitted at least two recorded coaching sessions with your practice client to be evaluated. You have a one-on-one assessment with an assessor for certification. You've completed all the previous modules so that when you are certified, you are rightfully deserving.

You have earned that certification. It's not something you can just buy overnight. So if you're looking for a way to get certified fast without doing any work, LLCA is not the right choice for you.

Once again, just to sort of give you a little recap. LLCA is not right for you. If you want to give advice and tell people what to do, you just wanna collect prerecorded videos without being part of an evolving and connected community, or you're looking for an overnight coach certification without doing much work.

LLCA is right for you if you're willing to do your own inner work first, you wanna learn in real time with coaching and direct support for me, plus practice what you're learning in small groups with your peers and a mentor, and it's right for you. If you are a life coach already or an aspiring life coach, you wanna enhance your current career with coaching skills, or you wanna learn more about yourself.

LLCA will elevate your life and your practice. I wanna remind you, I never set out to be a coach. I did my own life coach training over a decade ago when I was still the event director at Hay House. I did it because I wanted to know more about myself. And what happened was on the other side of my coach training, I was unrecognizable from who I was when I began.

That is possible for you, too. You are on the brink of becoming unrecognizable to yourself through the inner work, the inner discovery, the inner inquiry. When you turn your attention inward. And learn more about yourself. That's, what's going to allow you to step into the truth of who you are and who you want to become and how you wanna spend your time and energy on this planet.

So you will be most fulfilled, satisfied, and have a meaningful. Thanks so much for being here. And I look forward to being with you again next time.

Thank you so much for joining me for today's episode. It means so much to me that you're here and remember to visit Nancylevin.com/workshop to register for your Reinvention Prescription on Tuesday, September 20th. It's free! I only do this once a year and it's my most popular workshop. I don't want you to miss it.

Hope to see you there.
